Labor Force Survey October 2007

Preface

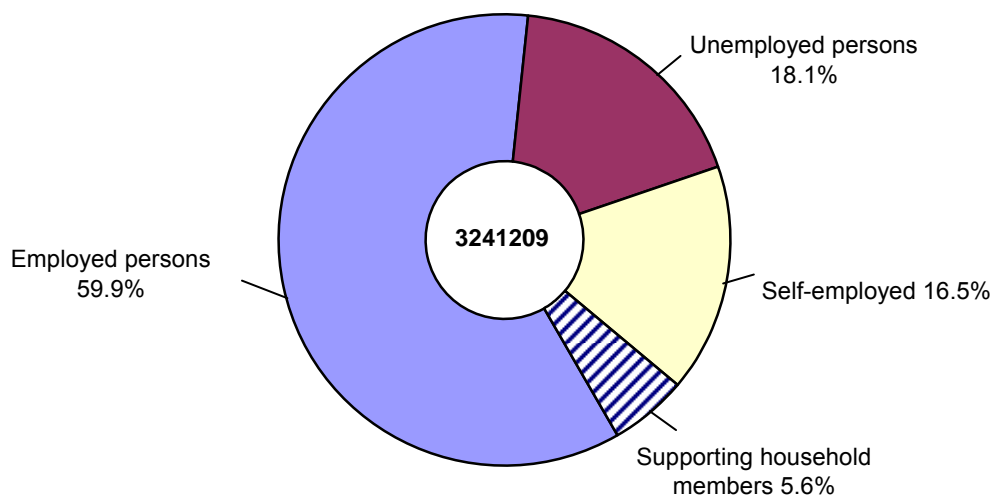

Labor Force Survey represents a study survey that most completely considers the labor force status and fluctuations in the labor market.

In implementing this survey, the methodological solutions, harmonized with the recommendations and definitions of the International Labor Organization – ILO and EUROSTAT requirements (European Statistical Office) were applied and thereby, the most important source was obtained for the international comparison of data of the Republic of Serbia and other countries in the field of labor statistics. The frame for the sample selection is based on the 2002 Census of population, households and dwellings.

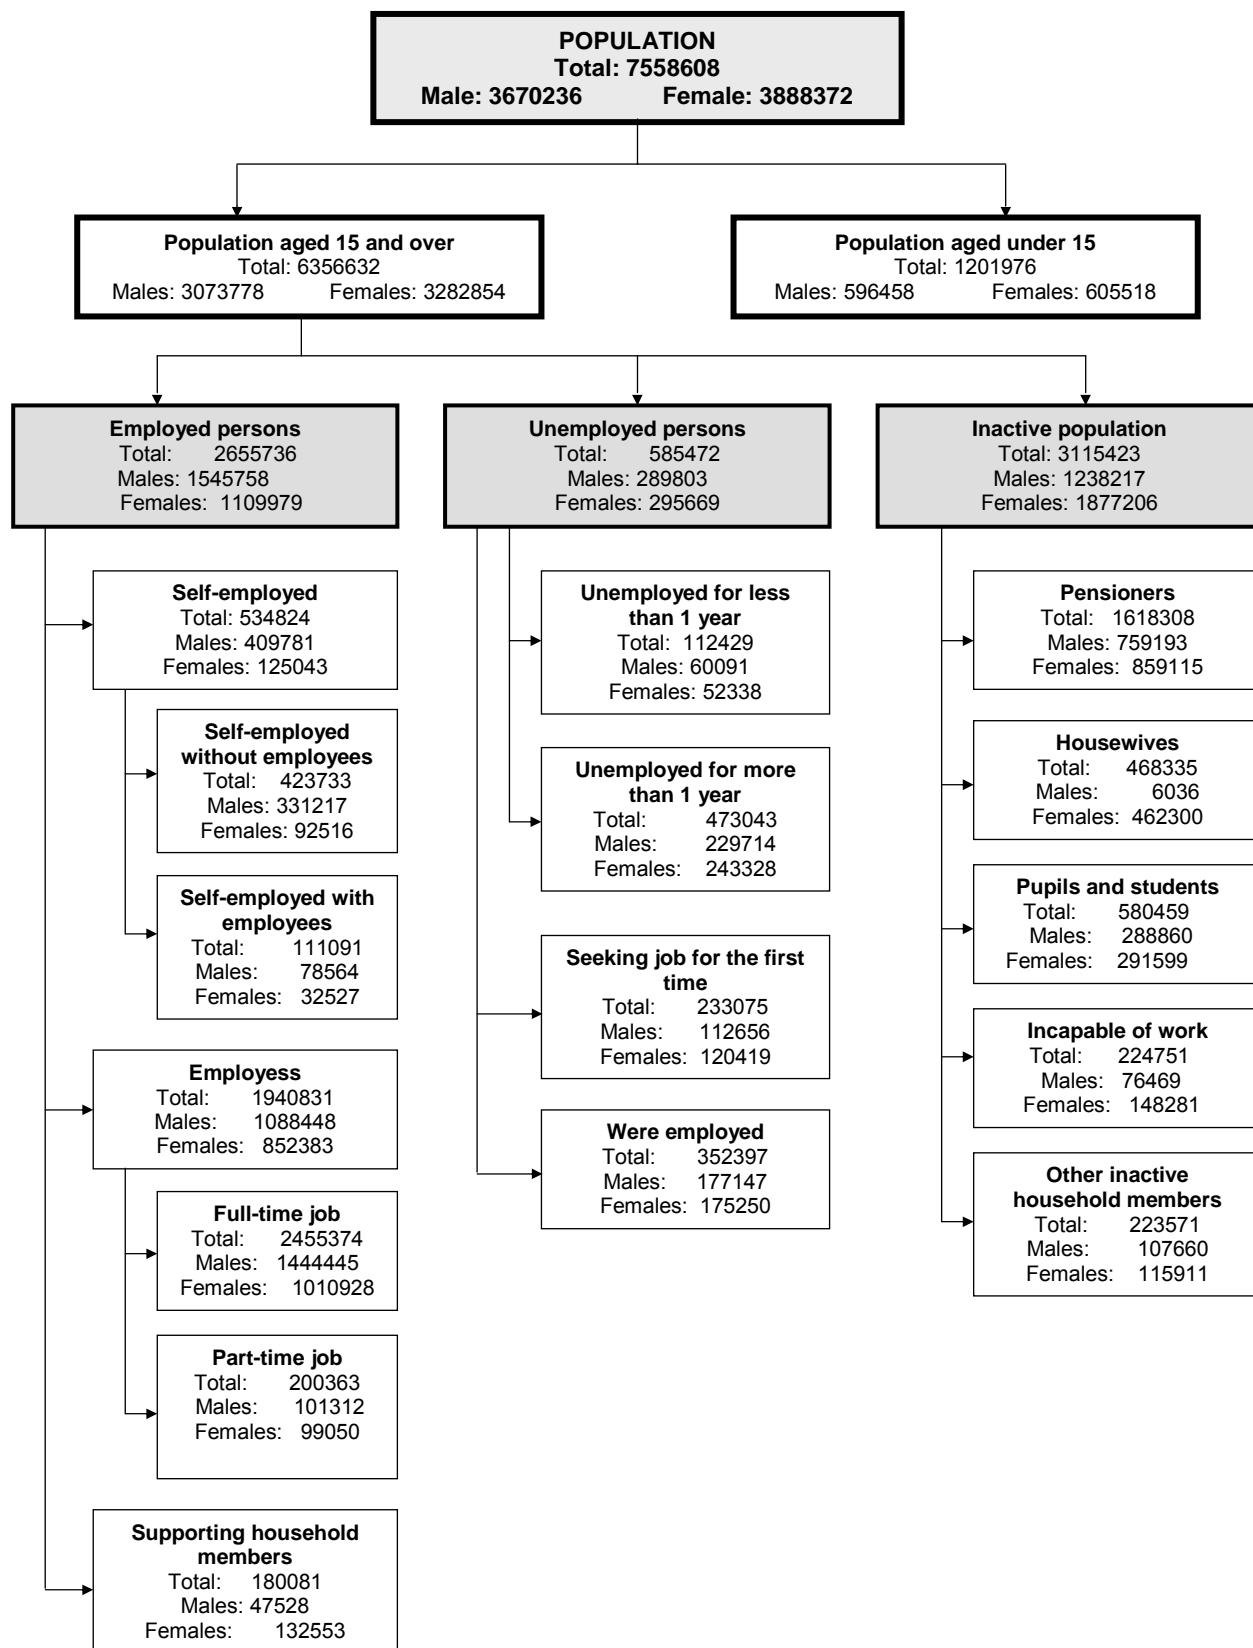

The survey covered about 6500 households of Central Serbia and Vojvodina. The data were collected relative to the demographic features of the whole population. For the population aged 15 and over, the data on their working activity were also collected. The total of 19103 persons were interviewed and for 16461 persons the data regarded their working activity were obtained, which equals 0.3% of the total number of persons aged 15 and over.

The Labor Force Survey was carried out in October 2007 and the period of observation was 15-21 October 2007.

Main Definitions

The Labor Force Survey observes population relative to the activity status in the respective week and not according to the formal status of the persons interviewed.

The term employed here anticipates the persons who did a job and were duly remunerated (payments in money or in kind), for at least one hour in the respective week, as well as the persons who were employed and were absent from work in the observed week.

Supporting household members are the persons rendering help, i.e. service to other household members in running family business or agricultural household and were not remunerated for their work.

The term unemployed (according to the ILO definition), refers to the persons who, in the respective week did not do any work for remuneration and who did not have a job they were absent from and which they could carry on after the absence, in case they met the conditions as follows:

- In the last four weeks these persons undertook active steps to find job and if a job was offered, they would start working within two weeks time;
- In the last four weeks these persons undertook no active steps to find job, since they had already found job and were about to start working after the respective week, latest within the following three – month period.

Active population (labor force) includes all employed and unemployed persons aged 15 and over.
